The website zabasearch.com is publishing personal information about just everyone, without their permission. In this age of identity theft, it would be the wise thing to do to shut down this website.